

COMPROMISE WITH TAMMANY FORCES

J. P. Mitchell Named Collector of the Port of New York by Wilson

MAY BE A DEFIANCE TO MURPHY

Nominee is Enemy of Boss But Idol of the Rank and File of Braves

WASHINGTON, May 8.—President Wilson was wearing the "smile that won't come off" as he sauntered to his desk today. He had encountered the first real crisis of his administration so far as appointments were concerned and had "saved the face" of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo as well as that of Senator O'Gorman.

Happy Solution

The president had no hesitancy in admitting that the appointment of John P. Mitchell, president of the board of aldermen of New York, to be collector of New York was a "happy solution of a serious difficulty." Mitchell is an independent democrat, the foe of "Boss" Murphy of Tammany hall, but the friend and idol of the rank and file of the better class of the Tammany organization. There were many well informed politicians in this city today who saw in the appointment the beginning of a movement to be backed by the administration to sweep Murphy and his lieutenants from control of Tammany and reorganize the New York City democracy under Mitchell.

Fight Against Murphy

There was talk here today that there might be an alliance between Mitchell and Gov. Sutherland against Murphy. Both men have plenty of patronage at their disposal and if they join forces some politicians believe they can wrest Tammany from Murphy's control, possibly in time for the mayoralty election next fall.
And if Murphy is to be fought by Mitchell, it is certain the latter will have the unqualified support of President Wilson.

PROPOSES FEDERAL MINES

WASHINGTON, May 8.—That the United States government should operate a number of coal mines in Alaska and that it should take as its share approximately 25 per cent of the net profits on all coal development by private lease on the public domain in the territory, was the plan offered today by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, a member of the territories committee, which is hearing the Alaska railroad testimony. He will introduce a bill during the present session, providing a definite basis for this sharing of the profits.

AWAIT BRIEFS

WASHINGTON, May 8.—With arguments in the New England railroad investigation completed, it was believed here today that the interstate commerce commission would not render its final decision for at least two months. Briefs on both sides are now being awaited.

WEATHER

Temperature for La Crosse during past 24 hours:

High, 60.
Low, 48.
Precipitation, .18.

Forecast for La Crosse and vicinity: Unsettled with showers tonight or Friday; cooler Friday; moderate winds.

Wisconsin: Unsettled with showers tonight or Friday; cooler west portion Friday; moderate winds.
Minnesota: Generally fair northwest; probably showers east and south portion tonight or Friday; frost northwest portion tonight; moderate winds.

Iowa: Unsettled with showers tonight or Friday; cooler northwest portion tonight; moderate winds.

Weather Conditions

A vast area of high pressure over-lies the northern plain states, Canadian northwest and the region extending from the great lakes and Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast. A narrow trough of lower pressure separates the two higher pressure areas. The pressure is low over the Rocky mountain region and Pacific states. Showers have occurred in the western lake region, upper Mississippi valley and plain states.
It is cooler this morning in the Dakotas and somewhat warmer in this section. The temperatures elsewhere have not changed much.

The movement of these atmospheric conditions will cause unsettled weather with showers in this section tonight or Friday; cooler Friday; moderate winds.

ADOPTED BOY CREATES RUCTIONS

HAMMOND, Ind., May 8.—
The "S. O. S." signal was sent out today by Mrs. H. E. Granger, charity worker, who adopted a youngster named Teddy, afterwards christened Terrible Teddy. Likewise a "baby for adoption" sign was swung across the front of the Granger lawn.
"Terrible Teddy" set fire to the side of the house in streaky yellow and gave the two little Grangers a "licking" on the first day of his arrival, earned new laurels in his second twenty-four hours. This is the way he figured in events around the Granger home.
He threw the kitten into a bucket of paint, smeared the paint on the walls and then wiped it off by rubbing his coat against it.
Imprisoned in the garret he kicked the plaster off the ceiling beneath and broke two chandeliers.

BURDEN IS SMALL IF IT IS DIVIDED

Employment of Visiting Nurse Depends on the Generosity of the Public

WILL CANVASS CITY SATURDAY

Every Home to Be Visited by Tag Day Workers; Sentries to Guard Corners

Two thousand dollars is a large sum of money for the average person to give for any charitable purpose.
It is more than any one of the vast majority gives in his whole life. But in a city of more than thirty thousand inhabitants with every one contributing their small portion, it amounts to very little.

Two thousand dollars is needed to pay the salary of Miss Marie Peterson, the visiting nurse whom the Associated Charities committee is making herculean efforts to keep in the service of the poor and needy of La Crosse.

Generosity in Demand

When each citizen is approached by one or more of the many pretty girls next Saturday and asked to buy a tag, it is up to him to show his generosity as well as appreciation of the situation. If any have made up their mind to donate more than a dollar to the cause, Mrs. George Burton, chairman of the tag day committee, today announced that it should not be given all to one girl.

"Let the contributor distribute his donation among several of the girls," said Mrs. Burton. "It will make the girls feel better and we believe that maybe his generosity will go farther if drawn upon in smaller amounts." Contributors were also warned today against throwing away their tags because of the experience of the committee last year. It was found that small boys were selling discarded tags and using the proceeds to nurse their own selfish desires.

Mrs. Burton appealed to the housewives today to have a small amount of change ready Saturday so that when the tag day automobile called there would be no delay in receiving the family donation. The city has been divided into districts and each district will be thoroughly canvassed by means of automobiles. Girls under the direction of chaperons will visit each house and nail up a tag where each contribution is received.

Necessity is Obvious

The necessity of employing a visiting nurse in La Crosse is obvious.
There are many families who are too poor to employ the aid of a nurse during their time of illness and it is for these people that the visiting nurse is hired. Many lives have been saved not only in the families of the poor, but by means of stopping incipient epidemics in other families.
The visiting nurse's field is a large one and it often taxes her time and ability to the limit to reach all people who need her. Her salary is small when the results of her efforts are considered. Small children and babies are her specialty and although many men and women will remember her work with feelings of thanksgiving and gratitude, it is the child of poverty that has the best reason to be grateful to the public sentiment which made her attention and care possible.

Girls will do sentinel duty on all downtown corners Saturday to pin tags on all who are not rounded up by the automobile skirmishes and it is safe to say that "visiting nurse tags" will be extremely fashionable for one day at least.

ARREST SILK STRIKERS

PATERSON, N. J., May 8.—Twenty-five silk mill strikers were arrested here today following a disturbance in front of the Dougherty and Washburn mill in a crowd of men and women. Only men were arrested. The strikers sought to prevent workers from entering the mill.

JAPAN NOT ANGRY AT UNITED STATES

Resent Action of California but are Pleased by the Attitude of the Administration

NEW TREATY IS CONSIDERED

May Delay Webb Bill Until Japs Can Save Their Face by Signing Another Pact with U. S.

(By John Edwin Nevin, staff correspondent of the United Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 8.—California's anti-alien land owning law, which becomes effective with the signature of Governor Johnson, will not menace the peace of America.
Japan has accepted the action of President Wilson in sending Secretary of State Bryan to Sacramento in the spirit in which the move was made. Japan bitterly resents the action of California, but does not believe that the Webb bill has the endorsement of the American people.
Not only that, but the Nipponese do not believe the bill will ever be enforced.

This was the opinion of those who were in closest touch with the situation today when it became known that a movement was already on foot in California to delay actual enforcement of the law until a new treaty could be negotiated with Japan, which would cover the main features of the measure.

Bryan Returns

Secretary of State Bryan reported to President Wilson today the result of his trip to the Pacific coast. Mr.
Bryan is understood to have told the president that a situation exists in California that must be met. There must be a check on Asiatic aggression in certain communities. The intent of the legislation has the endorsement of Californians generally.
But how to work it out is the problem. Japan, it is understood, is willing to concede nearly everything demanded by the pending legislation through the medium of a treaty which would preserve the national honor. To negotiate such a treaty will take time and the enforcement of the Webb law this time would complicate the situation.

Under the California constitution it will require about 20,000 signatures to get a referendum on the law, but Secretary Bryan was assured by leading Californians that these could easily be secured. And the referendum would give the delay needed to frame a treaty and secure its adoption by both nations. This will not interfere with the court test of the constitutionality of the Webb bill, which has already been planned.

Protest Delayed

It was not believed today that the protest would reach this government until after the law actually is in force. Ambassador Chinda, state department experts believe, is waiting until the law is in effect and even then he will informally seek to learn what the federal government plans to do before completing his protest.
Governor Johnson has promised to retain the bill unsigned as long as possible. Under the California constitution, he must dispose of it by next Tuesday and it was stated that before then he will have received another communication from President Wilson which will detail at length the attitude of the administration.

Bryan to Report

The secretary arrived today from the west and planned to have a conference with the president. He was led by his report and make the president familiar with all that transpired in the California capital. It was not expected that any definite action would be taken today, as Bryan planned to leave here this afternoon for Baltimore, where he was to spend the night and then proceed to New York to make a speech Friday night.

Bryan Denies Report

The report this afternoon that Ambassador Chinda had called on Secretary of State Bryan at Bryan's residence and filed formal protest for the Japanese government against the California anti-alien bill was officially denied this afternoon by Secretary Okako of the embassy.
"The ambassador has not been to see Mr. Bryan," he declared.
Secretary Bryan's secretary on behalf of his chief, said: "Mr. Bryan has not seen the ambassador since his return."

MOTHER SLASHES BABIES' THROATS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 8.— Lifting her two children, Agnes, aged 3 months, and Blanche, 22 months, from the bed where they were sleeping, Mrs. Mary Kulasa slashed the infants' throats with a huge carving-knife early today. She then placed the lifeless bodies back into their bed. Since the birth of the youngest child she has been moody. Kulasa was asleep when his wife killed the children. Awakened by the woman's screams, he saw his wife standing by a window holding the knife stained with the blood of her children.

HUNGER STRIKER WINS IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 8.—Milk and beef broth formed the diet today of Pauline Hamilton, 27, who successfully "put across" the first hunger strike on Chicago authorities. There was no color in her cheeks, but there was triumph in her eye.

The Hamilton woman was fined $100 and costs by Judge Hopkins of the new morals court. She was unable to pay and was led away to jail where she announced she would go on a hunger and conversation strike.

For ten days she resisted the attempts of John M. Whitwell of the Bridewell to feed her. Her vocabulary was limited to the word "No." Judge Hopkins waved his hands helplessly when told she might die and signed an order releasing her.
She is recuperating today at the Dan Martin Memorial mission.

OLD SOLDIERS IN LAST MEMORIAL

Veterans to Conduct Services This Year for the Last Time; Ranks Depleted by Death

WILL DEDICATE NEW MONUMENT

All Services to Take Place in the Morning; Huge Parade to Cemetery Planned

Because of their time depleted ranks the memorial services which will be held in La Crosse May 30 will be given under the active supervision of the veterans of the civil war for the last time. Where once they constituted a mighty army but a grey remnant is now left to do the honors to those who have answered the final "taps." Bearing in mind that Memorial day of 1913 is to be the last in which they take active part, the members of the three La Crosse posts of the G. A. R. have determined on a ceremonial which will live in their memory as the greatest and finest ever given in this city.

The dedication of the beautiful granite shaft, the gift of the Wilson Colwell post, which has been placed on the soldiers' lot in Oak Grove cemetery, furnishes opportunity for a tribute of unusual consequence.
The huge shaft bears the life sized
rest gazing out over the field which contains the ashes of those who have gone before. It is a handsome and significant mark of honor in which the few surviving old soldiers take great pride. The dedication speech will be made by Assemblyman C. L.
Hood of this city, himself a "boy in blue" during the greatest civil struggle in the history of this country.

Memorial Sunday

At ten o'clock on the morning of May 25 the members of the three La Crosse posts, the relief corps and the Spanish American War veterans will assemble at the court house and march to the First Methodist church where memorial services will be performed. After the church ceremonial the marchers will return to the court house and disband. Flags will be placed on the old soldiers' graves in all the cemeteries that afternoon.

On Memorial day, May 30, at 8:30 a. m., the Civil War veterans, Relief corps, Spanish War veterans, school children and civic bodies will meet at the court house and form in parade.
The line of march will go east on State street to Twelfth street and hence to Oak Grove cemetery where the main exercises of the day will be held.

Flags and flowers will be placed on all the soldiers' graves and when the "assembly" is sounded the audience will unite at the soldiers' lot.
The invocation will be spoken by Rev. Stanley Oadams. Music both for the parade and cemetery program will be furnished by Andre's brass band. The invocation will be followed by the reading of General Logan's order designating May 30 as Memorial day by Commander Albert Hady.
John M. Holley, Sr., will then read Lincoln's address at Gettysburg. A historical sketch relating to the monument which is to be dedicated will be presented by Judge Edward Cronon.

A fine musical feature of the program will be the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" by Prof. James Kerr and forty male voices.

Speech of Dedication

The dedication speech, the main event of the day, will then follow by Assemblyman Hood. With the firing of a salute over the graves, the sounding of taps by the bugler and the benediction by Rev. Oadams the ceremony will close.

The parade will then reform and march back to the court house, where it will disband. A speakers' stand will be erected in the cemetery next week for better accommodation of the audience and those who take part in the program.

TO PASS TARIFF THIS AFTERNOON

Wilson-Underwood Bill Will Be Through House
by Six O'clock Tonight

LEGISLATIVE RECORDS BROKEN

Sets New Mark for Speedy Legislation in Congress Along Tariff Lines

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Only a cut and dried program of opposition by the minority, half-hearted because of the recognized facility of overcoming the overwhelming democratic majority intended before final passage of the Wilson-Underwood tariff bill in the house this afternoon. Formal reading of the engrossed measure, two or possibly three roll calls and a final vote on passage were the movements of the legislative machinery necessary to send the administration measure to the senate. The prospect was that parliamentary "jockeying" would delay the last roll call until nearly six o'clock. Less than a dozen of the 290 democrats were prepared today to "bolt" the party program on the final vote. The Republicans were prepared to register their full strength of 129 votes against the bill. Of the fifteen progressives, a few proposed to vote "present" and the rest against the democratic measure.

Up For Final Reading

When the house met this afternoon the completed enrolled bill was presented for final reading, insisted upon by Republican Leader Mann. If it is very seldom that the so-called "final reading of an enrolled bill" is anything more than a perfunctory reading of the title of the measure, Mann insisted that everyone of the 45,000 words in the bill be read again. This was all that prevented passage of the measure last night.

When the house met for the formal approval of the administration measure all records for speedy tariff legislation were declared broken. The Wilson-Underwood bill was introduced in the house April 7 and was in the democratic caucus from April 8 to 19. "General debate" was begun on April 23 and concluded April 28.
The bill was taken up for detailed analysis April 29 and completed last night. With its passage exactly nine legislative days were consumed in its actual consideration.

Practically Unchanged

As enrolled today the bill presents practically no changes from that originally presented to the house. The sum total of rate changes was to change the classification on cod oil and a few others. Failure of the minority to emasculate the bill was caused by the air-tight democratic caucus rule pledging every democrat to vote against any amendments except those sanctioned by Leader Underwood.

U. S. CROP REPORT

WASHINGTON, May 8.—On May 1 a dash of winter wheat to be harvested was about 30,328,000 acres, or about 4.5 per cent (1,449,000 acres) less than the area planted last autumn, but 16.4 per cent (4, 367,000 acres) more than the area harvested last year, according to a crop report made public by the department of agriculture today.

The average condition of winter wheat on May 1 was 91.9, compared with 91.6 on April 1, and 85.6 the average for the past ten years on May 1.
A condition of 91.9 per cent on May 1 is indicative of a yield per acre of approximately 16.6 bushels, assuming average variations to prevail thereafter. On the estimated area to be harvested 16.6 bushels per acre would produce 513,571, or 28.4 per cent more than in 1912—19.3 per cent more than in 1911.

MOTHER JONES SEES HATFIELD

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 8.—
For the first time since her arrest last February in connection with the coal mine riots "Mother" Mary Jones known as the "angel of the mines" was today outside the martial law zone, although still under surveillance of the military authorities.
"Mother" Jones was brought to Charleston last night and had an hour's conversation with Governor Hatfield. She will talk with the governor again today.

INSPECT THE WATER PLANT WORK TODAY

Both members of Alvord & Burdick, the Chicago engineering firm who has in hand the building of the La Crosse new water plant, arrived in La Crosse today and this afternoon together with the members of the special water committee will make a general inspection of the whole work as far as it has progressed. It is expected that several small changes in the plans and specifications will be suggested by the inspection trip. The entire party, consisting of the mayor, members of the board of public works, five aldermen, Mr. Alvord and Mr. Burdick, will make the trip in automobiles so as to save time.

LIQUOR INTERESTS FIGHT VICE PROBE?

Deputy Sheriff Threatened

CHARGE AFFIDAVIT IS PERJURY

Senate to Investigate Methods Used in Obtaining Evidence by Sullivan

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 8.— Lieut.-Governor O'Hara's assertion that the liquor interests of the state had combined to oppose and discredit the Illinois senate white slave investigating committee, and that the affidavit before the senate examining commission was prepared for that purpose, seemed to be borne out this afternoon. Chief Investigator Coan testified before the senate that Deputy Sheriff Sullivan of Sangamon county, had threatened to "leave Illinois without a lieutenant governor," and to "put the commission out of business," if Sam Davis, local wholesale liquor dealer, was called before the commission.

"I met Sullivan in the Leland," Coan said, "and he told me the committee had better stay away from Springfield. If they do not stay away, I'll produce affidavits that will put the commission out of business and the state will be without a lieutenant governor." That's what Sul-

Sullivan added, according to Coan, that his object to the investigation here was that Davis, Ensel & Co., Springfield liquor dealers, had been subpoenaed to testify.
After Coan's testimony the senate committee of the whole arose and Senator Ettleson introduced the resolution providing for the continuance of the committee investigation of charges made in the affidavit and for an inquiry into how and why the affidavit was secured. O'Hara charges the affidavit is perjury.

The resolution was amended on motion of Senator Hay to read that this action was taken because it appeared on testimony that an effort had been made to interfere with the operation of the senate vice commission.

The resolution was adopted unanimously.

YEGGS GET BIG HAUL

GALESBURG, Ill., May 8.—The safe of the Farmers' bank of North Henderson, twenty miles from here, was blown to pieces last night and while the bank officials will not give out information as to the loss, it is said the larger part of the funds was secured by the robbers, who made their escape. Notwithstanding the terrific force of the explosion which demolished the safe and damaged the building, people living nearby did not hear the explosion and the discovery was not made until this morning.
Captain Charles Craig of Governor Dunne's staff, one of the largest stockholders in the bank left for North Henderson this forenoon to investigate.

SETS AIR RECORD

CHARTRES, France, May 8.—Avibiplane.

CALLS FEAST FACTIONAL RALLY

Executive Says Alleged Neglect to Invite Him
Is Little Better Than Insult

MILWAUKEE, May 8.—Defiance to the republicans of Wisconsin and especially to the forces of United States Senator La Follette was seen today in the action of Governor McGovern in refusing to attend the "get together" republican banquet in Madison May 14, when Francis E. Davidson, bull moose county chairman here, announced that McGovern had signified his intention of attending the progressive dinner here June 6.
Davidson said he had word from McGovern that if his affairs would permit, the governor would attend the bull moose function.

MADISON, Wis., May 8.—(Special.)—That Governor McGovern no longer considers himself a republican is the opinion of many political leaders here, formed in the light of his action yesterday in refusing to attend the republican banquet arranged by the state central committee and to which republicans regardless of past differences were invited.
The news of the governor's ultimatum to Sol Levitan, who gave the invitation, when he called it an insult caused great public interest throughout the state house.

The meeting had been planned as a harmony banquet, called particularly to celebrate the republican state victory last fall. In a statement by Republican State Chairman Geo.
E. Scott Monday, he pleaded for a reunited party. That the progressive party has no intention of joining in this movement is evident from Governor McGovern's action of yesterday.

Expect 500 Attendance Acceptance for the banquet are coming from the state at large, and it is said that an attendance of more than 500 is indicated by present returns. Several of the leading republican congressmen of Wisconsin and Minnesota, it is understood, will deliver short addresses.

Originally it was intended to hold the banquet at the woman's building, but owing to the large number of acceptances the university gymnasium annex was yesterday engaged for the meeting, which is predicted will be the largest republican gathering held in the state since 1904. The republican state committee will meet in Madison the same day to consider permanent organization.

Governor McGovern in an interview denies that he had been invited several weeks ago to attend a prospective republican banquet here.
Sol Levitan, who yesterday sought to sell the governor a ticket and was refused, insists that the governor had previously been asked to attend and to take part in a public function there in honor of Senator Scott in recognition of the latter's services in the last state campaign.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

YOUNG DOCTOR DARTMOUTH

By DOROTHY BLACKMORE

Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Well, there ain't no bells tied to his reputation as a doctor, anyway," remarked old Joe Brundage, the village pioneer.

"Perhaps there weren't any bells tied to your own reputation when you were his age, Uncle Joe," the little librarian suggested, mildly. She did not want to invite an argument with Uncle Joe but she did like to see justice done to a new resident in the village.

"Maybe not, my gal, but I never pretended to tell backache from toothache and he does. I tell you he's too young. I wouldn't have him for my dog Snap. No, siree!"

Lourene Raymond smiled and shook her head. "We were all young once, Uncle Joe, and we all had to begin. Dr. Dartmouth is unfortunate, perhaps, in having been brought up in a neighboring village. Too many of you knew him as a school boy and now that he has come to settle in Sea Cove you can't seem to realize that he has spent seven years in medical schools and colleges."

"Medical grandmothers! He can't pull the wool over my eyes. I'd as soon spin a coin to see whether I had the diphtheria or smallpox as to ask young Henry Dartmouth."

"Let's hope you won't have either," laughed Lourene, merrily. "They'd go mighty hard with you, I'm afraid."

"No harder'n things is goin' to go with that young fellow before he gets any confidence in Sea Cove folks. And it's again him, too, that he's single. Who wants a single doctor?"

Uncle Joe was waxing warm and Miss Raymond looked anxiously about the little library. No loud talking was permitted, and if the conversation with the librarian should be overheard it might reflect on her. She picked up a box of cards to busy herself with.

"I say, who wants a single doctor?" demanded Uncle Joe, tapping his stick on the floor.

"Some of the village girls might," Uncle Joe, Lourene suggested quietly to calm the old man.

Uncle Joe nodded his head wisely. "That's just it. The young girls want anything that's single, but let him see if it's the young girls he gets his practice from. No siree—it's the old folks like me and the mothers of families that he's got to look to for his daily bread and they won't have him. No siree!"

Without further word of farewell the old man tottered out of the library and down the wooden steps to the main street of the village. On principle, he was against everything new, everything progressive and the advent of the young physician to fill the place of an old time medical man who had gone to his reward was taken by Uncle Joe as a personal matter. He spent his days going about agitating the subject.

Lourene catalogued some recently arrived books and finished a few odds and ends of work at her desk before closing the library. Through her mind as she worked ran the words of old Joe Brundage. It was seldom that she heeded anything he had to say, but somehow he had said this so often and to so many persons during the last few weeks that it began to assume proportions in the eyes of the little librarian.

"What if Henry failed?" she said half aloud on her way home.

She knew how much he had relied on the family name to help him in establishing his practice. She knew how hard and conscientiously he had worked to get his degree at college and she knew that there was some truth in what old Uncle Joe had said about his youth being against him.

"And I wonder if it really does make any difference—his not having a wife," she soliloquized. Even in her soliloquy her cheeks burned crimson.

Lourene Raymond and Henry Dartmouth had spent two years in the same university town—she taking her library course, he beginning his medical course. They had been warm friends in those days and they had kept up a correspondence ever since. And now that they were again located in the same village they had been thrown together more than once. Lourene, with her woman's intuition, knew that the young physician loved her, but she knew that he would not tell her so until he had established himself in his practice. As it was he had nothing to offer her and she knew he was too proud to ask her to help.

Now the question put itself to Lourene. If he can't succeed in Sea Cove without a wife, if the people don't want a man who isn't married—what? If he won't tell her he loves her and ask her to marry him and help him to build up a practice—what? Lourene could see no way out of it.

Weeks passed and she saw the young doctor less frequently. He avoided her, for he knew she would ask him how many and who were his patients. He was ashamed to report so little progress, and so he kept out of her way.

"I told you, my gal, that there young Henry Dartmouth couldn't make good here," remarked Uncle Joe Brundage, dropping in to stand by Lourene's desk one afternoon just before closing time.

"You seem very happy, Uncle Joe," said the girl quietly. "Isn't that unkind of you?"

"Unkind? Nothing like it. A young fellow can't get himself up as knowin' more than his elders, more than the folks who used to see him wheeled about in his baby buggy, my dear. It's his mistake—not ours."

Lourene did not pursue the conversation, but let the old man read the papers in silence, but the moment she closed the library she sought a telephone and called up Dr. Dartmouth.

"Henry," she said, "I want to talk to you. You've avoided me lately, but I must speak with you. When will you come to see me?"

"Whenever you say," came in discouraged tones over the wire. "I'm not so busy but that I can steal an evening," he added, bitterly.

"Then come tonight—good-bye." Lourene hung up the receiver and there was a determined expression about her mouth that the young doctor would have recognized as forbidding had he seen her then.

When she greeted him that night the expression was only partly concealed by her smile of welcome.

It took the girl more than an hour to summon courage to tell Henry Dartmouth what she had called him there to tell him. It took more courage than she had believed she possessed to begin.

"Henry—you aren't acquiring a practice very fast, are you?" she asked.

He shook his head. "You know it better than I do perhaps—I'm a failure, Rene."

Lourene raised a protesting hand. "You are not. You—you need some one to help you. I'm going to speak frankly, Henry, and take the consequences on my own head. I have known for five years that you—loved me—"

Her voice almost broke on the word and she saw the young doctor clench the arms of his chair with his strong hands.

"That you intended to ask me to marry you when you felt that you had something to offer me. Now, this is what my woman's judgment tells me: You need me to help you to have something to offer me. Why not ask me now to marry you? I—I can help so much and—I'm breaking my heart watching you working against such odds in this village. The village folk are dived in the wool of tradition and they've never had a bachelor doctor. They won't begin now. You need a wife—you need me, Henry."

Henry came close to her and stood over her chair. She had her elbow on her knee, her chin in her palms looking into the fire on the hearth.

"Lourene, this is so unlike the day I've pictured—the day when I could come to you and offer you the position of a successful village doctor's wife. I can't do without you, and so I'm going to let you sacrifice yourself. I love you so many times more for coming to me that I—I simply can't find words to tell you of it. Lourene—" He held out his arms.

She arose and put both hands on his shoulders and looked into his face.

"We'll be none the less happy, Henry, for this unconventional coming together. We'll succeed and then old Uncle Joe Brundage will say, 'I told you so. He had to have a wife!' and we'll only smile at him and know it was true, won't we?"

Indefinite. "Do you care for jam?" "On the supper table or in trolley cars?"—Exchange.

MAY FESTIVAL IS PLAN OF SCHOOL

Exhibition of Folk Dancing to Be Given by the Pupils of Hamilton School

FIRST OF ITS KIND IN LA CROSSE

Special Music Has Been Sent for to Use with the Dances of Different Countries

Pupils of the Hamilton school will take part in a big May Festival, at which the new folk dances which have attracted a great deal of interest in schools all over the country will be staged for the first time in La Crosse. The festival will be held in the Old Y. M. C. A. hall Saturday afternoon and evening, May 10, at 3 and 8 p. m.

From earliest times the people have used dancing in celebrating different events in their lives, as a plentiful harvest, a marriage, the return of spring, etc.

Many of these dances took the form of pantomime of everyday activities. These folk dances have become very popular in the United States during the last few years, and they are in use in the schools of most of the cities throughout the country, as they are a fine means of teaching poise of body and grace of motion.

The Hamilton school is the first of the public schools to prepare a program of this kind in this city. Some of these dances were recently taught here by Mr. G. M. Caskey, a graduate of the Normal School of Dancing of New York City, and his is the first time that the public here has had an opportunity to see them. Special music had to be sent for, all local talent has been drawn upon, and much effort has been put forth to make this a delightful and interesting program illustrating the spirit of the different nations when at play.

WILSON REVOKES ORDER BY TAFT

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Postmaster General Burleson, yesterday announced issuance by President Wilson of an executive order in effect rescinding President Taft's action putting fourth-class postmasters in the civil service and requiring henceforth that all postmasters in this class must pass competitive examinations. Burleson also made public two postal regulations covering the plan.

The president's executive order specifies that all postmasters in the fourth-class receiving more than $180 annually must hereafter pass examinations under civil service rules. This means that the republican postmasters of the fourth class must pass such a test to keep their jobs.

Burleson's regulations propose that applicants must meet qualifications for fitness laid down by postal inspectors who, according to the new rules are to visit cities where there is a vacancy. The inspector's report is to be transmitted to the civil service commission for its information.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

A Gnome Joker and a Grumbling Boy.

He Was Dressed in a Fur Coat.

DADDY was reading as Jack and Evelyn came upstairs to bed. "Make it a nice long story, daddy," they coaxed, "for we are not tired a bit."

"Now, you know the rule," daddy warned, "just so long a story every night. If I start making them longer you will want to sit up all night. So I shall tell you just the regular story, and when it is done you must go to bed without grumbling."

"I am going to tell you of what came to one little boy on account of his grumbling. Tom was his name, and he didn't like to go to school. One morning as he started out he was grumbling more than usual. Tom lived in the country, and the way to his school led down a nice shady lane where the birds sang in the trees and squirrels and rabbits sometimes ran across the road."

"And that morning as Tom poked along on his way to school a fat brown rabbit ran across the way. 'Oh, dear,' groaned Tom; 'wish I was a rabbit. Then I wouldn't have to go to school!'"

"Oh, would you, indeed?" called a funny little voice, and Tom turned to see a funny little brown man sitting on a log by the roadside.

"Yes, sir; I would like to be a rabbit," Tom replied. He didn't know that the little man was a very old wood gnome who was fond of playing jokes on people.

"Then be a gnome!" the little man cried, and in an instant Tom found himself dressed in a fur coat and with little furry paws instead of hands.

"My, this is great!" he cried and dashed off through the grass. Presently he noticed a big hawk watching him from a tree. Suddenly the bird spread its wings and started as if to pounce down on him.

"Tom was so frightened that he darted into the first rabbit hole he came to. 'Hey, get out of here!' called a gruff voice, and a big rabbit boxed his ears. Tom ran out as fast as he could and scudded over the fields till he came to another dark hole. He popped into that, and there sat Mr. Fox. Mr. Fox welcomed him with a grin. 'Just in time for supper,' said he.

"Tom got out of there as fast as he could. He ran on till he passed a house, and out of that came a fierce dog. The dog ran, barking at Tom's heels, till he reached the log on which the little brown gnome sat.

"Oh, please, make me a little boy again," Tom pleaded, 'and I won't grumble about going to school any more!'"

"All right," agreed the little gnome, and he waved his hand.

"It was time, for the dog was just ready to snap its jaws on the supposed rabbit. You may just believe Tom chased him then. And really Tom hasn't grumbled much about going to school since then."

is unfortunate that this was not discussed before promises were made and conditions fulfilled, and we shall continue to hope that the objection is not well taken. However, if it is a sound objection, the North side should recognize the truth and be glad of even a belated discovery of the fact. Citizens of the North side and South side should now approach the important subject with open mind, analyze the situation judicial-ly, and get at the exact truth. Thatdone, we should act accordingly; if the plan is sound we should back it squarely. If it is unsound we should turn with friendly unity and determined purpose to some new and more promising public project.WHEN WOMEN WORK MEN MUSTN'T SHIRKThe Tribune requests every man to whose attention this article comes to read the following paragraphs from a current magazine:

"Have you ever stopped to think, when the skillful nurse was ministering to every want of a beloved but suffering member of your family, of the thousands of men, women and children, in sickness and distress; to whom a trained nurse was an unknown luxury? Did you have time to think, as proper food and medicine and care were given to your sick baby, of those other babies whose mothers are wage earners and housekeepers and nurses all in one? Did you wish, in your gratitude for your own good fortune, that you could send to each of these other babies a nurse who would counteract the ignorance of those handicapped mothers and direct them in the simpler ways of wholesome living? Perhaps you did think of these things, but because you were not personally able to do it, you may have put it all out of your mind. And yet you might do just this if you and that splendid club to which you belong would bend your efforts in that direction?"

"Many a club is paying, either wholly or in part, the salary of and supplies for a district nurse whose visits lighten these burdens very materially. The Anti-Tuberculosis association of Newark, Connecticut, maintains not only a visiting nurse, but a free dispensary as well. The Civic League of New Canaan, Conn. supports a visiting nurse who made one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two calls during this last year. Each day about six families in that community had the benefit arising from organized womanhood."

The women of La Crosse are doing just that which is so eloquently advocated in the foregoing editorial. They have done well indeed, so far, and on Saturday, May 10, they will hold a "Tag Day" for the purpose of raising funds to finance the nurse program for another year. We bespeak for them the liberal patronage of every man in La Crosse.

Please do not think our good women are not making genuine sacrifices in this work. Tag Day is not for them the holiday it may seem. They shrink from it—from its publicity and its personalities. They must courage to face its disagreeable experiences only because of that tender humanity that dominates true womanhood. They wish there were another way—as there should be—but they are bravely facing the necessity of the moment.

Really, we menfolk should blush that we permit sensitive women to subject themselves to the unpleasant features of a Tag Day program. However, if there is no other way, the least we can do is to lend them our moral support and to meet them with open purses.

LAND ACROSS SEA
ONLY A GOLD BRICK

Frederick Miller of America has returned from Europe and he says Europe is one large heap of junk. He wants no more of it. According to Miller, who says he feels just like a rube who has bought a gold brick, he found the following conditions:

"The Alps are nothing but foothills. They could be lost in the Rockies.

"Venice smells to heaven. Any American village would clean out those canals in twenty-four hours.

"Monte Carlo is a joke. Any American gambler plays a steeper game than the pikers play there.

"Berlin smells of stale beer and punk cigars.

"Paris is a city of cheap side shows. The boasted beauty of Paris women does not come up to the American brand.

"London is a city of gloom and influenza.

"Egypt is a land of moth-eaten camels."

There are those who claim that Mr. Miller must be suffering from a torpid liver, but a great many others believe that he is more than half right and has the courage to say what he really thinks and to admit that he didn't get his money's worth. Anyhow, Mr. Miller seems to be an American to the backbone, and, although he has drawn a rather unpleasant picture and may have exaggerated conditions, his experience stands as an argument that America contains things as well worth seeing as those in Europe. The motto "See America First" is very much to the point and the person who sees all of America first will find few thrills in European travel. America is the wonder box of the world, and the most wholesome place to live, in spite of the fact that a few snobs have expatriated themselves and become citizens of antique countries.

Mexico has recognized China, but China will not be able to recognize Mexico if the revolutions keep on much longer.

China is to stop importing cigarettes, and still some maintain that the republican form of government does not look toward better things.

Quips and Cranks
and Wanton Wiles

"Take it from me," said Farmer Brown, "You never kin capitalize a frown. The man who gets by in bang-up style

Is the one who is there with the gladsome smile.

The best business asset for to have Is a large supply of good old shave.

The feller with his shoes shined up and neat

And a good, clean shave and a smile that's sweet,

Is the man for business, you'll agree. He kin charm a bird out'n a tree.

Of course his compliments ain't all true,

If he spreads it on and he spreads it thick,

He'll get your goat and he'll get it quick.

If a feller comes 'round with a dark brown look,

And tries to sell a new-fangled book, Or a vacuum cleaner or a kitchen sink, You'll show him the door, yes, quick—er'n a wink.

Fer we ain't got time for the grouch's frown

And the feller who wears it'll git turned down.

The feller who works'll win after awhile,

But you'll get there quicker if you work and smile."

Joke on Kentucky Campaigners

Senator Ollie James like to tell jokes on his friends, and is responsible for the following one:

"Oscar Turner and Judge James Bennett were opposing candidates for congress in Kentucky. They had long been bosom friends and did not let their political fight interfere with their friendship. In fact, they made the campaign together.

"One night about dusk they rode up to a farmer's house and asked to spend the night. It was too dark for their host to recognize them. As they were unhitching their horses, Judge Bennett asked the farmer whom he intended to vote for.

"For Turner," he answered promptly, 'everybody around here's goin' to vote for Oscar.'

"The judge, thinking to be funny at the expense of his friend, remarked: 'I am surprised at that! Why, don't you know Turner is drunk all the time! He couldn't possibly stay sober long enough to attend to the public's business.'

"Yes," said the rustic, 'I've heard that he drinks a powerful sight, but we uns believe that he's got more sense drunk than Bennett's got sober.'

"Needless to say, they never told the farmer who they were, but they had a great argument the next day as to whom the joke was on."

He Needed the Tools

It is the rule that a convict in the Alabama state penitentiary coal mines has a stint to do—so many tons a day. He may earn extra money, and must do so to pay for the tools given him. The tools are then his own property. Sam Jackson paid for his, served out his year and went back to Birmingham. Thoughtfully he cached his pack, drill and lamp in a "dead" entry. In two weeks Sam

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

Send at Once for Free Trial Package

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, calluses, and bunions, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I will not be without it."—A. F. Dreutzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does.

You'll never limp again or drag up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and calluses. You'll feel like a new person.

There are two kinds of people in the world—those that get what they want, and those that get what someone else wants to give them. Be firm—when you ask for TIZ, get it and laugh at the substitute.

TIZ is for sale at all drug stores, department and general stores at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish. Money back if TIZ doesn't do all we say. For a free trial package write today to Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

How to Live Forever

Many so-called scientists are giving recipes for longevity. Sizing them all up and taking the advice of all of them, we are able to give the following comprehensive program:

Drink plenty of water while eating. Never drink while eating.

Always sleep out of doors.

Avoid the night air and sleep in warm room.

Take plenty of exercise. Chop three cords of wood after breakfast.

Carefully avoid all strenuous exercise.

Eat whatever you like and plenty of it.

Be careful of your diet. Eat nothing but dry toast.

Wear heavy clothes in winter and light clothes in summer.

Never make any change in your wearing apparel, but wear the same sort of clothing all the year 'round.

A Good Union Man

Up in Minnesota a Swede named Jensen was the star pitcher of one of the league teams. The score was 0 to 0 in the ninth. As his team started for the field to begin the tenth he suddenly dropped the ball and started for the bench. "Hey, what's the matter?" cried his manager. Jensen held up a large brown hand for attention, and then made oratory: "Meester Manajer, Aye ban gude hard worker. Aye ban villing dat Aye skal peetch das nine ennings. But ven Aye bane ask dat Aye skal go das overtimes, Aye ban made kick. Aye ban gude union mans an' A not work overtimes unless Aye swal get overtimes pay!" Miss Zelle Emerson, the American suffragette, whose hunger strike and forcible feeding made her so prominent a figure in the London news, said in a recent letter to a New York friend:

"We hate abuse of course, we suffragists. We hate ribald attacks. But to a good joke at our expense we will smile as rapidly as an 'anti'."

"There was a good joke at our expense recently. As a half dozen hunger strikers, wan and weak, were leaving Holloway jail after a fast of eight or nine days, a man in the crowd shouted:

"Look at the returned empties!"

The Prodigal Judge

But his antagonist was grimly silent, and Joe, roused to action by fear, and by a sullen rage at what he deemed the lawyer's perfidy, turned and grappled with him. Once he smashed his great fist full into Langham's face, and though the blow sent the lawyer staggering across the bridge, he recovered himself quickly and rushed back to renew the fight. Montgomery greeted him with an oath, and they grappled again.

Langham had known in his calmer moments when he planned Joe's death, that his only hope of success lay in the suddenness of his attack. Now as they swayed on the very edge of the bridge the handymen put forth all his strength and lifted the lawyer clear of the ties, then with a mighty heave of his great shoulders he tossed him out into space.

There was a scarcely audible splash and Joe, looking fearfully down, saw the muddy drops turn limp in the soft white light. A moment later some dark object came to the surface and a white face seemed to look up into his, but only for a second and then the restless flood bore it swiftly away.

Custer's Idol Falls.

Early that same night Mr. Shrimplin taking Custer with him had, driven out into the country. Their destination was a spot far down the river where catfish were supposed to abound for Isaac Walton's gentle art was the little lamplighter's favorite recreation. After leaving Mount Hope they jogged along the dusty country road for some two miles, then turning from it into a little-traveled lane they soon came out upon a great sweeping bend of the stream.

"I don't know about this, Custer," said Mr. Shrimplin, with a doubtful shake of the head, as he drew rein. "She's way up. I had no idea she was way up like this. I guess though we can't do no better than to chance it, catfish is a muddy-water fish, anyhow."

He tied wild Bill to a blasted sycamore, and then, while he cut poles from the willow bushes that grew along the bank, Custer built a huge bonfire, by the light of which they presently angled with varying fortunes.

"I reckon not many people but me knows about this fishing-hole," said Shrimplin, as he cast his baited hook into the water.

"Where did you learn to fish?" asked Custer, thirsting for that wisdom his father was so ready to impart.

"I guess you'd call it a natural gift in my case, son," said the little lamplighter modestly. "I don't know as I deserve no credit; it's like playing the organ or walking on a tight rope, the instinct's got to be there or you'll only lay yourself open to ridicule."

But truth to tell, fishing was no very subtle art as practiced by Mr. Shrimplin, he merely snat on his bait before he dropped it into the water. Even Custer knew that every intelligent fisherman did this, you couldn't reasonably hope to catch anything unless you did; yet there seemed to him, when he now thought of it, such a gap between cause and effect that he asked as he warily watched his cork:

"What good does it do to spit on your hook?"

"I've forgot the science of it, Custer," admitted his father after a moment's thought. "But I've always heard old fishermen say you could not catch anything unless you did."

"Did you ever try to?"

"I can't say as I ever did. What would be the use when you know better?" said Mr. Shrimplin, who was strictly orthodox. His cork went under and he landed a flopping shiner on the bank; this he took from his hook and tossed back into the water. "It's a funny thing about shiners!" he said.

"What is?" inquired Custer.

"Why, you always catch 'em when you ain't fishing for 'em. You fish for catfish or sun-dubs, or bass even, if you're using worms, and you catch shiners, mainly. I suppose, because they are no manner of use to you. I reckon if you fished for shiners you wouldn't catch anything—you couldn't—because there is no more worthless fish that swims! That's why fishing is like life; in fact, you can't do nothing that ain't like life; but I don't know but what catching shiners ain't just a little bit more like life than anything else! You think you're going to make a lot of money out of some job you've got, but it shaves itself down to half by the time it reaches you; or you've got to cough up double what you counted on when it's the other way about; so it works out the same always; you get soaked whether you buy or sell, from the cradle to the grave you're always catching shiners!"

While Mr. Shrimplin was still philosophizing big drops of warm spring rain began to splash and patter on the long reach of still water before them. He scrambled to his feet. "We are going to have some weather, Custer!" he said, and they had scarcely time in which to drive Bill under the shelter of a disused hay barracks in an adjacent field, when the storm broke with all its fury. Here they spent the better part of an hour, and when at last the rain ceased they climbed into the cart and turned Bill's head in the direction of home.

"I hope, Custer, that your ma

25 CENT "DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF—GROWS HAIR

Don't pay 50 cents for worthless hair tonics—Use old, reliable, harmless "Danderine"—Get results.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now anytime—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

TAKES REV. CHRISTY'S PLACE

Mrs. Christy Goes to California in Effort to Regain Her Health

The Girls' circle of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church entertained their friends Wednesday night in the Sunday school rooms of the church. The affair was in the nature of a social, at which a program of musical numbers and readings was given. Incidentally it was an informal reception to Rev. F. R. Webber, the supply pastor, who has come to take Rev. W. P. Christy's place.

During the afternoon the girls conducted a bazaar and candy sale in the basement of the church. A large table, filled with good things to eat in the confection line, and another large table upon which was displayed many articles of fancy work, were the main features at the bazaar.

Evening Program
In the evening occurred the social. The following program was given:

Song, Children's Sunday school choir.
Recitation in costume, Gundvor Skaar.

Vocal solo, Miss Fidelia Hanson. Reading, Miss Ethel Mabie. Mandolin solo, Miss Esther Noam. Song, Girls' circle.

The Sunday school rooms were filled with members of the church and their friends. After the musical program the girls served ice cream and cake. The affair was certainly a success.

New Pastor Takes Charge
F. R. Webber, the supply pastor who was called to take the place of Rev. William P. Christy, is on the field and has assumed charge of the work.

Rev. Christy was forced to give up the work for several months, on account of the serious illness of his wife. He was granted a leave of absence until September, and he removed to Palo Alto, Cal., hoping that the change would put his wife on the road to recovery.

The supply pastor, while making his headquarters in Chicago during the last year, has been working under the directions of the Home Mission board in organization work.

During the year just past, his efforts have been directed to the organization of a congregation at Neenah, Wis. He is in La Crosse for the purpose of taking care of Rev. Christy's work at Holy Trinity English Lutheran church, which has been a self-sustaining congregation for some years, and to conduct a campaign in

SPRING SURPRISE ON ENGAGED PAIR

Lodges Give Banquet and Dance for Miss Jessie Foley and William McDonald

The engagement of William McDonald, foreman of the Hans Motor Equipment company, and Miss Jessie Foley was formally announced last night at a supper and dance, held by the Woman's Woodman of the World, Rose Grove lodge No. 4, and the Riverside Camp No. 125, of the Woodmen of the World, in Woodman hall on Rose street. The festivities which were arranged for the young people who will be married on May 17, came altogether as a surprise to them.

It was learned a few days ago by members of the two lodges that the young couple were engaged, although only a few intimate friends knew of the match. Members of the lodges immediately set to work on preparations for a surprise party, and the result turned out to be one of the gayest times ever seen on the north side.

The guests, who were seventy-five in number, were seated, when Patrolman Alois Yehle led the couple into the room. When they saw the tables decorated with white ribbons, streamers and large bouquets of white carnations, they admitted that the report was correct, and joined heartily in the gaiety. A handsome silver dinner set was presented to the couple, Miss Lucile Yehle making the presentation speech. The guests demanding speeches, Mr. McDonald arose from the table, saying that he thanked the members, but was too surprised to say anything. After the supper a dance was held. The guests left the hall at 12 o'clock.

The catechetical class started by Rev. Christy has been called together and is being prepared for confirmation on May 25. They will meet twice a week, Wednesday at 4 p. m. and Saturday at 9:30 a. m. The sacrament of the Lord's supper will be administered on the Sunday mentioned.

Remarkable Skin Cure In Sparta, Wis.

For years every attempt we made to cure my daughter's skin disease was hopeless. Her legs were covered with the terrible eruption from the knees down. It was a serious matter of course to let Elsie grow to be a woman with this terrible skin affliction and we left nothing undone that might relieve her. Doctors, remedies, salves, ointments, blood prescriptions, all attempts were made one after another, and one after another they failed.

13 bottles of the D. D. D. Prescription have just completely eradicated the disease. For twelve years other prescriptions, skin specialists, doctors, had accomplished nothing. In consequence we have no objection to making public, for the benefit of other skin sufferers, our wonderful experience with this great specific.

MR. AND MRS. DAVE HUGHES, Sparta, Wis.

So confident are we that the D. D. D. Prescription will reach your case too, that if the very first full size bottle fails to do exactly as it claimed, it will not cost you a cent. Drop in and let us tell you more about this great remedy, D. D. D. Columbian Drug Store, Hoeschler Bros.

"BETTER A DELAY THAN ACCIDENT"

Central Safety Committee of Northwestern Road Issues Two Years' Report

NEW PLAN SAVES MANY LIVES

Employees Offer Many Suggestions in Regard to Rules for Safety

"Better cause a delay than cause an accident," prefixes the report of the central safety committee of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad company. The pamphlet shows the work done by the committee during 1911 and 1912.

The "safety first" movement on the Northwestern was started a little over two years ago by the organization of division, terminal, shop and local safety committees. The object of the movement is the safety of lives and limbs of employees and patrons of the road. The company is trying to interest the men who are employed in operating trains, working in the stations, in shops and on tracks and bridges, in an effort to have them give up the careless habit, which has been rapidly growing, of taking chances, which is the cause of a large proportion of accidents.

The committees show a decrease of 155 people killed on their road in the last two years, and a decrease of 4,826 persons injured. Rewards are given each year to the employees of a division holding the best record for safety in work and travel. A number of suggestions are being received all the time by the committee from employees at stations and shops at different points along their line, in regard to accidents, small and large, that could easily be avoided, and with their set of rules, the committee has adopted a set of rules which if lived up to the letter by trainmen and other employees of the road, will eliminate a great amount of accidents and deaths to employees and passengers.

Hobbes figure largely in the number of deaths occurring each year on railroads, and while these have to be

SAMPSONS WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

G. E. Sampson, a Milwaukee conductor and his wife, 727 St. James street, left today for a trip to San Francisco, Cal., where they will attend the National Trainmen's convention. Mr. Sampson has been sent to the convention as a representative of the Portage lodge of the Brotherhood of Railroad conductors. The convention is held semi-annually. Mr. Sampson and his wife will visit different points of interest in the northwest, in Canada and the United States before they return to the city. They will be gone a month.

RUMORS OF LAKE MERGER ARE RIFE

OTTAWA, Ont., May 8.—Rumors of a gigantic merger, the aim of which is to secure a monopoly of practically all the transportation on the great lakes, were in circulation here today. A new combine which was to include the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co. and possibly some American lines, was to be formed with a capitalization of $40,000,000.

DERAILMENT STOPS FREIGHT

An extra freight train on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad met with an accident at Mauston at 11 o'clock last night, in which a freight car was derailed. No delay was caused. The cause of the derailment has not been ascertained.

THREATEN YOUNG KING

STRATION BEFORE SPANISH EMBASSY ARE DISPERS-ED BY POLICE

PARIS, May 8.—Police precautions were doubled today to prevent a repetition of last night's demonstration against King Alfonso of Spain, the guest for three days of President Poincare.

The anarchists did not attack King Alfonso but they attempted to storm the Spanish embassy and when police drove them away they proceeded to break down the lamp posts and tear down the house decorations in the Avenue Courcelles, where the embassy is situated. Twenty arrests were made.

A soft answer may turn away wrath, but the soft drink habit does not make for the popularity of Pe-ria.

FASCINATING HAIR FOR WOMEN

Is Easy to Have, Natural Colored and Beautiful

So many women have grey or faded hair; neglect it until it becomes thin, dry and lifeless, begins to fall out and makes them appear much older than they really are. If your hair is in this condition get a bottle of Hay's Hair Health today. Don't wait until some one says how much older you look. You'll be delighted at the results from even one or two applications. The grey hairs gradually disappear and your hair will become full of life and vitality. No one can tell that you are using it. It's not a dye but a nice, clean preparation that quickly and effectively keeps your grey hair dark, glossy and natural colored and that all druggists guarantee satisfactory or refund your money. Always ask for Hay's Hair Health. It never fails.

Free: Sign this adv. and take it to the following druggists and get a 50c. bottle of Hay's Hair Health and a 25c.
cake of Harfina Soap, for 50c.; or $1.00

Buffalo today from Chicago and Philadelphia to take the places of the striking express company wagon drivers. The companies have served notice on Mayor Fuhrman and Sheriff Becker that they expect protection and two uniformed policemen were stationed on each wagon. The teamsters of the city completed their organization last night and will submit demands to their employers for increased wages Monday. The bakers and machinists of the city are also organizing.

Praise This Remedy For Lung Trouble

If the voluntarily written words of grateful people, living in all parts of the country, praising Eckman's Alterative, a remedy for the treatment of coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles, are to be believed, this medicine is certainly doing a vast amount of good for such sufferers. This is a sample taken from many:

St. Mary's Academy, O'Neill, Nebraska.

"Gentlemen: About seven years ago I was attacked with Tuberculosis. I coughed unceasingly, could not sleep nor eat, even could not speak out loud and could do no work. I had three hemorrhages, raised blood most of the time and suffered with night sweats, fever and chills. A specialist of Columbus, Ohio, pronounced my case hopeless.

"Nearly five years ago I heard of your Alternative and procured some at once, with the result that I soon found myself restored to health. I consider your medicine, if faithfully taken, a most excellent remedy.
Mother Superior permits this testimonial."

Sisters of St. Francis.

(Above abbreviated; more on request.)

Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. For sale by Chas.
Beyschlag, G. E. Mariner and other leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries and additional evidence.

THIS GIRL WILL BE MUCH SOUGHT AFTER

Miss Ellen Evelyn James.

A little Texas girl—Ellen Evelyn James of San Antonio—now a student in sculpture in the Art Students' League in New York city, is destined to become much sought after. In fact, the possession of her picture will be the ambition of countless millions.

Why? Well, because Kenyon Cox has used Miss James as the model for the figure and head of "Plenty," a goddess appearing on one of the new bills, which Uncle Sam will soon issue.

The young lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. James of San Antonio.

a reading club Tuesday afternoon.
Mr. James Hogan has gone to Denver, where he will visit Dr. Bernard Dorset.

Mr. Mills Tourtellotte has returned from a few days' stay in Chicago.
Mr. F. C. Tiffany has gone to Billings, Mont., on a business trip.
He will be absent a couple of weeks.

Mr. C. F. White has returned from his Montana ranch, where he spent a couple of months. He reports crop conditions very favorable. He will return there next week and will remain there the greater part of the summer.

Mr. W. B. Webb of Hamilton, Mont., spent a couple of days in the city with his old friends.

Mr. Gysbert Van Steenwyk has gone to Chicago to meet his mother,

Holtz attended the dance at West Salem Saturday.

John Gruber of Wilton spent Sunday in the village with friends.

Fire broke out in the Blue building at 2 a. m. Monday morning. It is thought to have started from a lamp exploding. Mrs. Chas. Miller put in the alarm at Asa Darling's corner, but the whistle did not respond for some time. The boiler was filled with too much water, which in some cases would cause the whistle to burst. The whistle blew such odd signals so consequently the volunteer firemen were unable to locate the fire at once. The fire did not do much damage most of it being done by the water. Mr. and Mrs.
Chas. Miller and family occupy the top stairs and Mrs. Pitcher occupies one room also. George Cooper has his office down stairs.

Miss Florence Fleming Noyes in Daring Greek Costume at Women's Pageant

Florence Fleming Noyes as Hope was one of the principal figures in the Woman Suffrage party pageant given at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York May 3. Among a hundred other young women dressed in the conventional Greek costume she stood out.

She appeared on the stage immediately after the prologue. She rushed from the Greek temple with a lighted torch in her hand and lit the flame at the Altar of Truth, while the hand maidens danced about her.

During this scene the Spirit of Woman, as represented by Pauline Fredericks, the beautiful actress, appeared. It became the duty of Hope to show her vision of Freedom, and after that the Spirit of Woman also

Two of Family
Die Within Week

MILWAUKEE, May 8.—Only a week ago the family of Fred Froem-ming at 457 Maple street was happy and contented. Today there is sorrow in the little home, for yesterday two of the family were laid to rest, a brother and a sister having died within two days. Irma Froemming, age 20, was stricken with scarlet fever Sunday morning. The same afternoon her brother Elmer, a youngster of 3, was seized with the same disease, and died within a few hours. The girl died the next morning.

MANUFACTURERS CALLED TO MEET

Will Discuss Home Made Week Displays with Board of Trade Committee

A meeting of the manufacturers of the city was called today by the Home Made Week committee of the board of trade for the purpose of arranging for displays in the windows of the merchants the last week of this month. The meeting will be held in the municipal court chamber at the city hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The committee consisting of A. P. Funk, C. P. Thompson, H. J. Hirschheimer and W. R. Montague has already done considerable in the arrangement of the big advertisement of the products of the mills and factories of La Crosse is very encouraging. The merchants have expressed their desire to co-operate in every possible manner and it remains with the manufacturers to furnish the means of carrying the project through to a successful conclusion.

ANNIVERSARY OF JUDGE'S ARRIVAL

Sitting behind his high desk in the municipal court room, Judge Edward Cronon today recalled, with a faraway look in his eyes, La Crosse as he first saw it just fifty-eight years ago today. The aged civil war veteran came to La Crosse up the river in the days when it required eight days of constant travel by the railroad trains to get from "York state" out to the "frontier," where La Crosse was located. There was nothing of the city then but Front street. In the years just before and just after he settled upon La Crosse as his home, Judge Cronon "ran the river," working on packets and lumber boats and many other types of craft. When the war broke out he was in Arkansas, and he tells a thrilling tale of his adventures in running the gauntlet up the river into union territory, where he could enlist with northern troops.

KLEEBER REPORTS SHORTAGE IN MEN

Work for three or four hundred men in railroad construction work in the northern part of the state is being offered today by Superintendent of the La Crosse Labor Bureau Leonard Kleeber. "The demand for men is much larger than the supply," said Mr. Kleeber today, "and as a consequence wages are increasing. I can send out men to Phillips, Mellen or Glidden, Wis., or can place a large number in and about La Crosse. Common laborers are getting $2.25 a day here and as the demand increases the wages go up."

LIFERS TO ASK PAROLE

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., May 8.—For the first time life prisoners in the federal penitentiary will be eligible to ask for parole when the board of paroles meets here next Monday. Under the amendment to the parole law, granting paroles to life prisoners who have been fifteen years in prison, three will apply for parole, each having served more than the prescribed time. Two of them are James R. Todd and Joseph S. Leach, the third prison officials refuse to give his name. He has been nearly thirty years in prison. He was convicted of robbing a mail stage in Idaho.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeiters and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines. It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

SCHREIBER GIRL IS CALLED TO STAND

Former Burlesque Actress Testifies in the Case Against Jack
Johnson

CHICAGO, May 8.—"Belle Schreiber," called a bailiff in Federal Judge Carpenter's court today. Jurors leaned forward to catch a glimpse of the former burlesque actress, manicure maid, and chief witness in the government trial of Jack Johnson, black pugilist, charged with violating the white slave act by carrying the Schreiber girl about the country with him.

A petite figure, garbed in blue, stepped to the witness stand. She wore a white straw hat and her features were concealed by a heavy white veil. In an almost childish voice she began telling of her relations with the big negro.

Before the Schreiber girl took the stand several witnesses were offered by the government, one, Estelle Paynter, alias Henderson, testified that the Schreiber woman was an inmate of a Pittsburg resort, where she went by the name of Jaque Allen.

Another, Charles Sampson, testified that Johnson and Belle Schreiber came to his store in October, 1910, and that the big negro bought $1,196 worth of furniture after the girl had selected it. Several other witnesses testified as to the character of a row of flats where the Schreiber girl lived in Chicago. In his opening statement, Special District Attorney Parkin said he would prove that Johnson "set the Schreiber girl up in business" in a disorderly flat.

LANGDON PRESIDENT OF POLICE BOARD

John Langdon was elected president and L. C. Colman was chosen secretary of the fire and police commission at the regular organization meeting of the board of police in the city hall last night. Beyond the election of officers and the reading of the monthly reports of Chief of the Fire Department Nathan Bradfield and Chief of Police John Webber no other business of importance was taken up.

President Langdon announced today that there is no foundation to the rumor that an effort would be made to secure the resignation of Chief of Police Webber so as to vacate the office for someone else. "Idle gossip," was the way he disposed of the subject. "No one will lose their jobs as long as they attend to business."

MILWAUKEE AD CLUB PRESIDENT HERE

Raymond T. Carver, president of the Milwaukee Ad club, and one of the best known advertising men in the country, held a conference with the officers and members of the La Crosse Ad club last night in relation to subjects of common interest to the two clubs. Mr. Carver gave a short address on municipal advertising and its results, and told of the work that has been accomplished in the Wisconsin metropolis through judicious use of mediums of publicity.

"Going to the Dogs." The phrase "going to the dogs" has puzzled the explanations of metaphorical expressions rather needlessly. It has even been suggested that it is a profane perversion of "going to the gods." Shakespeare's "Throw physic to the dogs" and the Scriptural "Give not that which is holy unto the dogs" have been quoted in connection with the expression. But it seems a fairly obvious reference to the fate of the worn-out horse, condemned to be slaughtered. The old Greek curse "Go to the crows!" may be compared, referring as it did to the Greek's horror of having his body left unburied as food for carrion birds.—London Spectator.

A Curious Epitaph. The following epitaph is copied from a tomb in the vicinity of Port Royal, Jamaica: "Here lieth the body of Louis Cald, Esq., a native of Montpellier, in France, which country he left on account of the revocation. He was swallowed up by the earthquake which occurred at that place in 1692, but by the great providence of God was, by a second shock, flung into the sea, where he continued swimming until rescued by a boat and lived forty years afterward."

Lloyd's Bell. When a ship is posted at Lloyd's a bell is tolled once. In the very unusual event of a vessel arriving in port after being posted the bell is struck twice and the caller makes his announcement from the rostrum amid a breathless silence. On the day insurance money is payable all who were on the missing ship are legally considered dead.

Young man, beware of a girl who says she intends to be a spinster. Woman's intuition is a pleasant term than feminine suspicion.

RIGHT IS MIGHT. With truth and justice and love on my side, I should not fear to stand in a minority of one against the population of the whole globe. I would say to them: "I am the stronger. You may glory now, but I shall conquer at last."—Theodore Parker.

CANNOT FIND MURDERER OF PHAGAN GIRL; MANAGER OF FACTORY WHERE CRIME OCCURRED INSISTS HE'S NOT THE GUILTY ONE

Despite diligent efforts to establish the identity of the slayer of fourteen-year-old Mary Phagan, whose body was found in the basement of the National Pencil Company's factory in Atlanta, Georgia, police and detectives are seemingly as far as ever from solving the mystery.

Leo M. Frank, manager of the pencil company, who is under arrest as a suspect, insists that he is innocent. "The affair is exceedingly embarrassing to me," he declares.

SOCIALISTS URGE PURCHASING BOARD

Petition Council to Establish New Department; Would Connect to All Sewers

Urging the establishing of a purchasing department of the city to buy pipe and fittings for sewer connections, the social-democratic party last night adopted a resolution at its meeting asking the city council to authorize the board of public works to do all the work of connecting property with city sewers and charge property owners only the exact cost of the labor and material.

The resolution is as follows: "To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of the City of La Crosse, Wis.:

"Whereas: In the building of a modern city it is of great importance that the impurities accumulating in our daily life be disposed of, and

"Whereas: Expensive sewer systems are generally constructed to carry away the impurities, and

"Whereas: The city of La Crosse having such a sewer system that extends to nearly all parts of the city, it is the intention to compel all property holders to install modern sanitary connections wherever there are sewer mains, and

"Whereas: There are property holders who cannot afford to install such connections at prevailing prices, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that the social-democratic party of La Crosse urge upon the city council of the city of La Crosse, to take such steps as may be necessary,

"First: To establish a purchasing department;

"Second: To purchase such pipes, fittings and materials as may be necessary for such connections;

"Third: To do the required work on such connections under the supervision of the board of public works;

"Fourth: To assess the actual cost of the material used and the cost of the labor to the property holders."

No new developments were noted in the party's investigation of the alleged "ice combine" in the city. The committee declared that they would require several weeks more before making their report.

Misinterpreted. Lord Macaulay passing one day through the Seven Dials bought a handful of balloons from some street folks who were bawling out their contents to a gaping audience. Proceeding on his way home he was astonished to find himself followed by half a score of urchins, their faces beaming with expectation. "Now then, my lads, what is it?" said he.

"Oh, that's a good 'un," replied one of the boys, "after we've come all this way."

"But what are you waiting for?" said the historian, astonished at the lad's familiarity.

SAYS BROTHERS HAD TO KILL BETRAYER

YAZOO CITY, Miss., May 8.—"They had to do it, there was nothing else to do. I urged them to do it," said Miss Lucille Dennis, aged 19 years, testifying in the case of her brothers who killed Monnie Watson. "Monnie took me to New Orleans on his promise to wed and wrote my father we were married. Then he deserted me. When the baby came I told my brothers to kill Monnie, and they did."

According to witnesses, one brother held the victim while the other shot him. That the jury will acquit both boys is the general belief.

The two families involved are among the wealthiest in the state.

BOSTON PUPILS STRIKE

SCHOOL CHILDREN QUIT AND PARADE STREETS DEMANDING "SHORTER HOURS"

BOSTON, Mass., May 8.—The school children's strike in Greater Boston assumed alarming proportions today when the ranks of the malcontents were swelled by new windows and more damage to school buildings was reported. The police threatened drastic action today. It was estimated today that over 1,000 children in Cambridge, Roxbury, South Boston, and several other suburbs have "struck" and more are expected to "go out" unless their demands for shorter hours are granted.

The children formed in parades in each of the affected sections. Several hundred windows were smashed. Attempts by the police effectually to break up the procession were futile, as the youngsters skipped through alleys on to the next parallel street and continued their march. Scrawls "we want our rights" adorned the sidewalks in nearly every section of the city and suburbs today, while hordes of children wore placards setting forth their grievances. The strike spread to Milford, where the Draper mill strike is on, and fifty children of the strikers declared a strike of their own. They picketed the school before police could disperse the boy and girl strikers.

The youthful strikers demands are rather vague, but in general are for one session from 8:30 to 1:30. Some of the "radical" however demand shorter hours.

REHEARSE FOR MUSICAL SHOW

Rehearsals are proceeding regularly for the big musical production "Jane," to be given by local amateurs for the benefit of St. James parish. Ed Conway, producing manager, declares that his performers are displaying even more ability than he had expected. Seat sale for the production, which will be given at the La Crosse theater May 16 and 17, will open at the Theater Candy store Monday.

SENATE COMMITTEE ENDORSES DAVIES

FRIEDMANN "CURE" BLOCKED CAMPAIGN

Anti-Tuberculosis Association Says Work Has Been Set Back by New Remedy

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Declaring the "Friedmann cure" has been one of the adverse factors encountered by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis during the past year, President Homer Folks of the association, here today, discussed Friedmann in his opening address before the annual convention.

"Nothing like the series of events which have followed the announcement of the Friedmann cure in Berlin has hitherto occurred in the tuberculosis campaign," he said. "We are all listening for announcement of a specific remedy for tuberculosis and all no doubt admit that if it comes it may revolutionize our entire program."

"Only those who have been engaged in inducing state and local authorities to appropriate funds for tuberculosis dispensaries, nurses, sanatoriums and hospitals can appreciate how vastly more difficult this task has been made by the extremely effective press agents of Dr. Friedmann. Thus far it is not evident to me as a layman that any of those who have had to do with the subject in this country have won much credit. Where the public looked to the medical profession for guidance, it seemed to find only silence or the raising of some question as to Dr. Friedmann's right to practice here or there, or to send his remedy through the mails, or as interstate commerce."

Meanings of Dyke. "Dyke" has even more divergent meanings than ditch in Lincolnshire and bank in Holland. In Scotland it means a low wall or fence of turf or unmortgaged stones, and in some parts of northern England a "dyke" is a hedge. Yet there are other northern districts where it is a pond. Originally, in English at any rate, "dyke" or "dike" and "ditch" both meant what ditch still means to us, but as the digging out of a ditch necessarily involves the raising of a mound with the dug-out earth the words came to signify ditch and mound together and eventually in some cases the mound alone.—London Standard.

Men and Tears. Men have always taken a kind of perverse pride in their comparative immunity from tears, as though a peculiarity due to a physical cause were a self made virtue and the proof of a strong mind. But there is pathos in this deprivation, for they cannot get the relief of tears when poignant thoughts and feelings from "the depth of some divine despair" rise from the heart in their crisis of suffering and sorrow.—Wilkinson Sherren in T. P.'s London Weekly.

MAY RECONSIDER THE DUNN BALLOT

MADISON, Wis., May 8.—Before the assembly adjourned this noon Assemblyman Hurlbut made a motion that the vote by which the Roessler bill repealing the Dunn coupon ballot law was engrossed last night, be reconsidered. This will bring the bill up for further consideration at Saturday's session.

EDEN BURIED IN LA CROSSE MAUSOLEUM

The body of H. Y. Eden, who died in St. Paul March 11, 1913, at the age of 42 years, was placed in the Oak Grove mausoleum this morning.

Mr. Eden was formerly a railroad commercial agent. His wife accompanied the body to this city for burial.

WEST SALEM TO PAY FOR LIGHTS

Village Has Had Streets Illuminated for 21 Months Without Paying One Cent

After getting their streets lighted for twenty-one months without paying, the village of West Salem is to sign a contract next Tuesday with Dr. E. C. Swarthout, head of the Neshonoc Light Co., setting amount the company is to receive. This was decided upon at an informal meeting of the village board yesterday, called together by E. E. Dillon, electrical engineer of the state railroad commission.

The contract between the company and the village for lighting ran out in September, 1911. When the contract came up for renewal, Dr. Swarthout refused to sign, on the advice of his attorneys, as there was a damage suit pending in the courts, the result of the death of a man in West Salem by electrocution on the company's wires. His lawyers advised that a clause in the contract exonerated the city from all liability for such accidents, and Dr. Swarthout accordingly refused to sign.

The case has since been settled, and there are no differences between the village board and the company, but settlement of the lighting contract was neglected until the railroad commission took a hand and called upon both parties to come to an agreement.

cal game they were in without me." Levitan Discusses Stand. Sol Levitan, republican presidential elector at large in the last general election and chairman of the arrangements for the republican banquet to be held here under the auspices of the republican state central committee on May 14, dismissed Governor McGovern's statement today in a few sentences.

"Did you tell the governor that you did not expect him to attend the republican banquet?" Mr. Levitan was asked.

"Why, sure," said Mr. Levitan. "Now, I want to be open with you. You see, McGovern has got a record. Last fall he got his fingers in the Roosevelt tar bar! Naturally, I wanted to see if he had got the tar off."

WOULD CALL ALL WOMEN TEACHERS

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 8.—The calling of all the women teachers of Pittsburgh, 2,000 in number, before the Heeter investigating committee now in session considering charges against Superintendent of Schools S. L. Heeter, is advocated by Frank E. Freese, a member of the school board.

A resolution adopted by 1,000 parents at a meeting called by the School Visitors' association, and held in the old city hall last night, was today sent to the school board and to Governor John K. Tener. The resolution demanded the resignation of Heeter and a state law making the superintendent and board positions elective instead of appointive.

Mr. and Mrs. Heeter are at the bedside of Heeter's mother at North Manchester, Ind. The mother is expected to die.

PROTECTION PIER BEING REPAIRED

The work of repairing the protection pier of the wagon bridge which was badly damaged during the winter by ice floes, will be started tomorrow morning. A large part of the pier will have to be entirely torn down, as many of the pilings are broken off on a level with the water, and will have to be pulled out. The "Tipton" a government snag boat continued on its journey down the river this morning, after docking above the wagon bridge during the night. The boat left St. Paul a few days ago, and is engaged in taking snags out of the river, from St. Paul to below DuBuque. The captain of the steamer reports that only one snag was found in the river between St. Paul and La Crosse.

Beethoven's Oddities.

Beethoven used the snuffers for a toothpick. It was one of his peculiarities that he never allowed his servant to enter his study. He insisted that this room should remain exactly as he left it, no matter how deeply the dust lay on the precious musical manuscripts. He seldom looked in the glass when he tied his stock. Half the time he forgot to brush his hair. Every morning he carefully counted out seventeen beans from the coffee canister. These served for his breakfast. When he composed he would pour cold water over his hands, and often people below him would complain of the water that soaked through his floor.

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, May 8.—The stock market opened dull and lower.

11 a. m.—Though irregularity was noted during the first hour, the tone of the market was strong and promised greater activity later in the day. Chesapeake & Ohio was forced down to 62½ by a bear raid shortly after opening, making a new low for the year. Two new rumors cropped out regarding the Union and Southern Pacific dissolution. One was that a syndicate was forming to underwrite the stock at 92 and the other that the Union Pacific would ask for approval of a plan to place its Southern Pacific stock in the hands of a committee with power to liquidate it within three years.

Noon.—The market was dull during the second hour.

The stock market closed dull.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, May 8.—Though foreign cables were higher today, wheat continued to decline in anticipation of a bearish government crop report. The report was to be released after the market closed today and this fact caused light trading. May lost ¾c and July ¾c in the morning session.

Corn opened firm, suffered a little setback and then advanced late in the morning. May leading in the move upward. May options at noon were half a cent above yesterday's closing price.

Oats opened a shade firmer. May held the advance during the morning but July made a fractional loss to yesterday's closing price.

Provisions were easier early in the day but later recovered to the prices prevailing at yesterday's close.

The wheat slump continued in the afternoon, each month losing ¼c and May closed at a low level for the day, of 88½ with July at 89c.

Corn and oats held firm in the afternoon, corn closing strong.

Provisions made slight advances in the afternoon.

OPTOMETRY BILL ORDERED ENGROSSED

MADISON, Wis., May 8.—(Special.)—The assembly last night engrossed the Hordman bill establishing a board of optometry examiners and otherwise regulating the optometric profession with the intent of doing away with the "spectacle fakir." By a vote of 45 to 41 the members refused to indefinitely postpone it, and then by an aye and no vote advanced it. The principal opponent of the bill was Assemblyman Spoor, while Assemblymen Nordman and Walsh championed it as a means of standardizing the business.

The more a man learns the more he realizes that this is a highly complicated little cosmos.

HELD FOR BEATING HIS WIFE TO DEATH

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 8.—Charles Erickson, arrested on the charge of having beaten his wife to death, refused today to make any statement regarding the tragedy nor to comment on his arrest. The sheriff fears a mob may make an attempt to do violence to the prisoner and has thrown a double guard around the jail. Mrs. Erickson was found dead in her home. Her chest had been crushed in with a heavy club found near the body.

A Kansas judge has decided that a man is the owner of his wife's clothes. If her new bonnet costs too much to suit him he can wear it himself.

ASK ENTRIES FOR STAGG'S BIG MEET

CHICAGO, May 8.—Entry blanks for the twelfth annual interscholastic meet of the University of Chicago were sent yesterday to every high school and academy in the west and middle west. The meet will be held on Marshall Field on June 17th, closing the prep school track season. The meet has grown to be the biggest event in high school track competition in the world and last year attracted teams from as far as the Pacific coast. The meet was won by the Citrus Union high school of Azusa, Cal., and six records were tied or broken.

Keep busy and you will have less time for worry.

FINALLY DEFEAT SALOON DIVORCE

MADISON, Wis., May 8.—The bill to divorce the brewery and saloon business was finally killed in the assembly Wednesday beyond hope of revival. It came up on a motion to reconsider the vote by which it was indefinitely postponed last week. It was defeated, 52 to 29.

CHRISTIE SIGNS GIBBONS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 8.—Acting as his own manager, Gus Christie today signed up for a twelve round go with Mike Gibbons of St. Paul, to be staged in Boston next Tuesday. Christie took on Gibbons following the refusal of Bob Moha to meet him before a local club.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Chicago, 4; Brooklyn, 3
BROOKLYN, May 8.—The Dodgers dropped the second game of the series to the Cubs yesterday after a hard fought battle by a score of 4 to 3. Score: R H E Chicago . . . 100002100—4 8 2 Brooklyn . . . 020010000—3 8 1 Batteries: Toney and Bresnahan; Allen, Stack and Miller and Erwin.
NEW YORK, 6; Cincinnati, 4
NEW YORK, May 8.—The Giants landed on Benton in two innings yesterday forcing the Cincinnati pitcher from the box in the third. Packard replaced him and after that inning he held the Giants safe but the handicap of six runs was too much for Tinker's outfit, four tallies being the best they could muster. Score: R H E Cincinnati . . . 010011010—4 10 2 New York . . . 033000000—6 7 0 Batteries: Benton, Packard and Clarke; Mathewson, Ames and Meyers.

PHILADELPHIA, 4; St. Louis, 3
PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—The Phillies won from the Cardinals yesterday in a ten inning game by the score of 4 to 3. Both Griner and Seaton pitched good ball, but the fielding of both teams was loose. ## MARYLANDER LIKES OUR LABOR LAWS

MILWAUKEE, May 8.—"Wisconsin's industrial commission and its labor legislation in general have attracted the attention and admiration of eastern states and has placed the state high in the estimation of all who are working to solve the problems of labor," said Frank A. White, commissioner of labor of Maryland, Wednesday night.

Mr. White had just arrived in Milwaukee from Chicago in company with J. D. Beck of Madison, a member of the industrial commission.

"The purpose of my visit to Wisconsin," said Mr. White, "is to become more familiar with its laws and especially with its industrial commission and its free employment bureau, with a view to introducing similar laws in the legislature of Maryland."

NAPS AND RED SOX IN FREE-FOR-ALL

Teams Clash in General Row After Game Yesterday; Story Is Denied

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 8.—Although several members of the Naps and Red Sox bore slightly bruised and chipped faces, as confirmation of the report that a free-for-all fight had taken place between both teams following yesterday's game, not a player could be found today, who would directly admit that a scrap had taken place. Details of the battle, however, leaked out from various sources.

ROBIDEAU A COMER

NEW YORK, May 8.—Hailing him as one of the fastest lightweights to fads today predicted a good ring career for Sammy Robideau of Philadelphia, who last night punched Johnny Lore around the St. Nicholas Athletic club ring almost at will.

A velled insult is more annoying than a bare-faced lie.

Watching The Scoreboard

It was a tight squeeze all the way round, but the Cubs evened up with Brooklyn. Dahlen kicked hard on the decision that gave Chicago the winning run, but it did not do any good.

The Phillies also came back against St. Louis. It took Lobert's double in the tenth inning to settle the argument.

It would be interesting to see what Packard, the Red pitcher would do to the Giants in a game all his own. After relieving Benton, he held them to two hits in six innings and was never in danger.

Mark up the third victory in eighteen games for the Yankees. Pitcher Keating has won them all. He whitened Cobb twice yesterday and the peach left the game.

St. Louis Browns failed to score in the first inning against the Athletics on three bases on balls and a three bagger. Just for that the Mackmen beat them.

Wagner came through with three hits but the Pirates lost to Boston again.

BULL MOOSE PLAN BANQUET FOR HERD

MILWAUKEE, May 8.—One of the big political events of the year will be the Progressive club dinner at Esplanade on the night of June 6, according to officers of the club at their meeting last night in headquarters in the Caswell block. More than 300 Bull Moosers from all parts of the state will be present to hear J. Medill McCormick and other leaders of the party.

OLD ROMAN SAYS HE WILL RETIRE

CHICAGO, May 8.—Charles A. Comiskey, president of the White Sox is out today with official notice that he will retire and let some one else direct the activities of his white-hosed warriors next season. "After the Sox make the trip around the world this winter, I will be through with baseball," said the Old Roman today. "Beginning with the trip I shall take a real vacation and some body else will have to look after the team."

RITCHIE TO TRAIN

SPOKANE, Wash., May 8.—Lightweight Champion Willie Ritchie said today that he will go on training the second week in June on a California ranch for his next appearance in the ring. The champion expects to hook up with either Lead Cross or Joe Rivers for a four round game.
